

New Horizons in ELT

21-23 October 2005

An International Conference organized by

INGED & ECONOMICS AND TECHNOLOGY UNIVERSITY

INTRODUCTION

INGED / ELEA-Turkey (International English Language Education Association) is an international organisation whose mission is to strengthen the effective teaching and learning of English as a Foreign Language in Turkey while developing international connections. The 9th International Conference provides TEFL professionals with opportunities for professional development through an exchange of ideas and practices in English Language Teaching and research. Participants will integrate their knowledge of current trends in the TEFL field and in ELT practices.

We warmly invite all experts in the field of TEFL / TESOL to come and present or participate in this significant event. We hope that the discussions will assist the progress of TEFL /TESOL around the world.

TOPIC AREAS

This year's theme, New Horizons in ELT, has been set in the hope that the participants will share and compare their own teaching practices and collaborate in finding solutions to common problems. This conference aims to focus on innovative theories and practices in the following areas:

- Applied Linguistics
- Culture in ELT
- Literature in ELT
- Research
- Curriculum Design
- ESP/EAP
- ELT Management
- Materials Design
- Learning Styles
- Teacher Training & Development
- Assessment and Evaluation
- Classroom Methodology
- Self Access
- Technology in the Classroom
- Common European Framework
- CALL

VENUE AND DATE

The 9th INGED International Conference will be held between 21-23 October 2005, at Economics and Technology University, Ankara, Turkey.

PRESENTATIONS

Paper

A paper is a 30 or 50-minute session that describes an innovative idea, research, or a procedure through which the presenter has recently gained awareness of an aspect of language, language teaching and/or learning. It should describe what has been done in relation to theory or practice or may focus on commercial materials or products. Its content should be relevant to the delegates who work outside your local context as well.

The presenters are requested to present their papers with only occasional reference to their notes rather than by reading out previously prepared texts or overhead transparencies. The summary you will provide should be no more than 250 words and should explicitly outline the steps and topics that will be discussed in the paper.

Workshop

A workshop is a 50-minute hands-on session. It should include active audience participation through experiencing and discussing tasks provided by the presenter. The summary you will provide should be no more than 250 words and should explicitly outline and discuss the steps and procedures that will be followed during the workshop. If you wish to restrict the attendance to your session, please tick the appropriate box for your preferred audience size.

Poster

A poster session gives a visual presentation illustrating or summarizing a project, research, or a feature of language teaching and/or learning. Each poster will be allocated wall space and there will be a 30- minute slot in the program solely for the presentation and discussion of the posters by the presenters and delegates. The poster presenters will be expected to be on hand during this slot. The abstract you will provide should be no more than 250 words and should explicitly outline and discuss the steps and procedures that you present in your poster.

 Please keep in mind that the specified times in each presentation involve discussion as well.

CRITERIA FOR PROPOSAL SELECTION

Your proposal will be included in the program if it fulfils the following criteria:

- It is clear from your summary that you will shed new light on the topic
- It is clear that you have respected the level of knowledge of your audience
- Your session considers practical issues and implications
- Your session provides the opportunity for the audience to link this experience to their own if describes a study or project in your local context
- Proposals based on research report on a complete study or a significant phase that has been completed
- You have not given this session, or a version of it, at a previous INGED conference.

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS

The proceedings of the conference will be published. Presenters who wish to have their presentations published should submit the required material to the Conference Organization Committee during the conference.

Guidelines for the required material are as follows:

1. All papers should be typed in Microsoft Word and copied onto a disk, which is to be submitted together with a hard copy.
2. All illustrations and charts should be copied onto the disk.
3. The font colour should be black and white.
4. Papers reporting study results should include an introduction, a brief literature review, a description of the study, the results, and the classroom implications.
5. Papers discussing practical teaching issues should include an introduction, a brief literature review, the philosophy behind the idea, and its application in the classroom.

6. All referencing should be made and a list of direct references should be written and attached.

7. Workshops should be written up in the form of an academic paper.

8. Presenters should not submit their session notes. They should rewrite the notes by following the requirements of academic discourse.

9. All papers should be edited and proof-read.
